'I try not to be a weirdo'

Actor Andrea Rischborough tackles every role she plays at full tilt. She opens up about authenticity, falling in love – and facing the world without makeup

How to become a supercommunicator Top 10 fashion looks for the new season Why spring is best for a Roman holiday

Slingbacks

Wave goodbye to the stomper sandal and welcome the return of the micro-heel. The kitten-heel slingback has been reclaimed by fashion-forward brands, from Balenciaga to Gucci.

Polo shirts

The polo shirt is set to dominate as a key summer staple. When Mrs Prada decides to send models down the runway layered in iterations of the sporty top, the rest of the fashion industry tends to fall into line. This is a trend that the high street is sure to excel in, from a Levi's striped version to Reiss's cropped design.

Epic proportions

Off-duty suiting, shirts and blazers have been upscaled for spring. Roomy tailoring breezed down the runways, as oversized suiting at Stella McCartney, paired with sailor-collar shirts at Jil Sander and loosely hung off-the-shoulders in denim at Emilia Wickstead.

Bold colour

Designers took inspiration from the bold colour palettes championed by artists such as Mark Rothko and Josef Albers. JW Anderson, Isabel Marant and the Row favoured cobalt blue while Sergio Hudson chose zesty yellow. The key is to embrace bright colour from head to toe in matching separates for maximum impact.
